FBL 2002-2003 Season
Playoff Schedule

Tagalog Conference Ilocano Conference

Playoff Seeding

The division winner in each conference with the best record will be the 1st seed. The other division winner will be the 2nd seed.
The remaining six teams are seeded 3-8 by overall record.
If two or more teams are tied, the tiebreakers below are applied to determine which receives the higher seeding.

Two Teams

1. Better record in head-to-head games
2. Higher winning percentage in conference games
3. Higher winning percentage in division games (if teams are in the same division)
4. Higher point differential between points scored and points allowed

Three or More Teams

1. Best head-to-head winning percentage among all teams tied
2. Highest winning percentage in conference games
3. Highest winning percentage in division games (if teams are in the same division)
4. Highest point differential between points scored and points allowed
